DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The small gabled, single story church has a bell tower built at the corner of the structure. The bellcast roof for the tower has a boxed cornice decorated with dentils. The arched openings in each section of the tower have double radiating arch surrounds with keystones and moulding at the line of the capital and at the base of the arches. Below this are louvered openings with mullion between.

The two entrances are in adjoining sections of the tower above which are three, narrow, leaded glass windows with plain trim surround and lugsills. The main windows are a three arch design with mullion and plain trim surround. The windows themselves are stained glass. At either end, flanking the main window, is a small square stained glass window with a taller one below.

At the center of the gable is a round stained glass window with a design of concentric circles surrounding it. The first story has a surface of natural stone while the upper portion of the bell tower and the gable are shingled.
